WINDING UP OF GREAT CONTEST

But One More Week Left for Getting Tee-Dee Votes.

MANY CHANGES OF PLACES

Doubtless Some "Bottom Logs" Will Be Near the Top Next Sunday.

The Summer Outings Contest comes to a close next Saturday, July 22d, at

Only six days more in which to secure voting certificates, and six busy days they will be. The contest has steadily increased in interest, and the final six days promise to end in a burst of speed, figuratively speaking, that will break the record.

Each contestant Is doing her utmost to add to the accumulation of votes by se curing subscriptions to The Times-Dispatch, both new and renewals,

The lucky fourteen parties, according to the statement printed below, is headed by the Misses Calhoun and Burton, with 17,942 votes, and the fourteenth party.

17,912 votes, and the fourteenth party, the Misses Bonjonia and Brockwell, have 6,701 votes to their credit.

Of course, there will be a great "shaking up" when the final count is made and then some of the parties who are outside of the "fourteen line" will doubtless be in for the fluish with colors flying. Several parties show the three thousand votes necessary to be counted in on the consolation prize contest, and indications that nearly every party now in the list, together with some new ones, will reach the three thousand mark before Saturday evening.

PINE BEACH HAS SPLENDID HOTEL

Formal Opening of the Grand . Ball-Room This Week.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PINE BEACH, VA., July 15 .- The Wedesday night hop here marked the opening of the large and palatial ball-ro the new Pine Beach Hotel. Nearly 200 people from Norfolk, Portsmouth, Berkley News, together with the guests in the house, attended the hop and danced away the hours until long past midnight, An-house, attended the liep and danced away the hours until long past midnight. Another hop was given to-night. The formal opening of the ball-room will take place in the next week, and it is expected that 150 couples will attend. The ball-room occupies the first floor of a large, circular retunda that commands an admirable view of Hampton Roads. Over it is an assembly hall of equal dimensions, which, if necessary, can be utilized as an auxiliary ball for dancing. The orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Cobb, has been engaged permanently for the hotel, and every afternoon and night there is music, with dancing after the evening concert. The orchestra plays in the dining ball at the luncheon and dinner hours.

Up to this time Manager W. C. Royer, who looks after this apex of Charles H. Consolvo's triangle of hotels—Norfolk, Ocean View and Pine Beach—has conducted the house strictly on the American plan, but he is now arranging an European plan, and will announce it in the next few days.

Taking into consideration the fact that the house has been open less than two weeks, the patronage is highly gratifying to Mr. Consolvo and those who are associated with him in the conduct of the business. In addition to those registering for short stays and for the entire summer sons on there is daily a number of diners, who, spending the most successful season since its opening, and every day there is a crowd of no small dimensions on the grounds. Joseph Bryan, owner of the Richmon Times-Dispatch and recently appointed on the Equitable's governing beard, with Grover Cleveland, was here Thursday, with Mrs. Bryan, as the guest of Mr. Consolvo and David Lowenberg. He was greatly interested in the new hotel. He stopped here on route to Richmond from Eagle, Point, Clouester county. "W. E. Cottrell, of the baard of sovernors of the Jangestown Exposition Company, who is in active charge of the building operations on the site, which adjoins the hotel property, has taken two rooms in the house for his offices. He will install his force there at once.

HIGHLAND COURT.

Lively Upset Bidding for Timber Lands.

(Special to The Times-Disputch.) MONTEREY, VA., July 15,-The July term of the Highland Circuit Court convened Tuesday and continued until Thurs day evening-it being a grand jury term One of the interesting features of the term was the placing of an upset bid by a firm of Parkersburg land brokers on a piece of Highland timber land recently sold by Commissioner E. H. McClintic. sold by Commissioner E. H. McClintic. The price for which it sold was $735, and the upset bid made was $400 better, and sale made to the West Virginians. Two hours later, a second timber buyer asked the court to reopen again, as he had tried to reach him in time, but falled on account of a sick florae. It was done, and the price climbed from $835 to the handsome sum of 1,855, and much to the satisfaction of the original owners—humble people of the county.

Visiting attorneys present were Messrs, John W. Stephenson, of Warm Springs;
J. B. Stephenson, of Harrisonburg, and B. H. Hiner, of Franklin, Sheriff John E. Gum, of Bath, was also a familiar face in the crowd.

Gum, of Bath, was also a familiar faculin the crowd.

Two political meetings were held during the term. The Democrats were called upon to elect a county chairman to fill a vacancy made by resignation of Mr. Ernest H. McClintie.

I am informed that Mr. McClintie resigned in consequence of his purpose to leave Highland in the early fall. He has been a fearless, faithful and aggressive leader, and his loss will be felt no less by the party in Highland than by the people generally, by whom he is regarded as a public spirited, useful citizen.

Mr. J. A. Whitelow was elected to succeed Mr. McClintic as chairman of the County Democratic Committee.

The Republicans also met and appointed delegates to the Roanoka State convention, A resolution endorsing Judge Lewis for Governor was passed.

The Great Sacrifice Sale of the PEMBERTON, PRICE & CO.'S STOCK of Fine Dry Goods enters its third week with greater values than ever.

THE LADIES OF RICHMOND have been treated to many a rare bargain here in highgrade, desirable merchandise during the last ten days. And you may look for as many more, of equal or greater value, in the days to come between now and September 1st.

We have every reason to feel highly gratified at the enormous success which has attended our opening sales. Many who have come once have found it convenient to come again and again, and, at the present rate of rapid selling, few goods of any consequence, of the original Pemberton, Price & Co.'s stock will find themselves here when repairs to the present building

Mines of Great Bargains-Attractions All Over the House.

Each department is a veritable gold mine for buyers—the surface of which has scarcely been broken by the first ten days of selling. Interest in what we are doing, and how we are doing it, is never allowed to wane. Each day only serves to intensify the enthusiasm of the buying public over this sale. And each day, new, fresh stocks are brought forward to replenish the depleated lines and to keep our assortments complete.

As we said before, it is out of the question to attempt a description of all the different lines -together with their former and present price. The entire edition of to-day's Times-Dispatch would be required to do that. So we can only suggest.

Then, too, we'd much rather you'd pay us a personal visit. "Bargains" (?) that are "all in the paper" count for nothing. When you're face-to-face with a value-you know-and the longer you know us the greater will be your confidence in our statements-both verbal and in print.

Manager Wells Selects What Appears An Ideal Bill for Casino.

ure in selecting the bill which is to occupy the stage at the Casino next week, see a vaudeville bill which is second to see a vandeville bill which is second to none that has been offered here. Mr. Wells made a trip to New York early in the week, and when he had looked over the outlit he was so impressed that he booked the combination for all his theatres, covering some eight or ten weeks. Care was taken in making the solection, as he had the choice of half a dozen or more stractions, but the one chosen more nearly meets the alms of the management of the Casino than any of the others, and the engagement folof the others, and the engagement fol-of the others, and the eligagement for lowed.

Foremost among the performers is Lyrline, the water queen, who has completed a four-month engagement at Hammerstein's, New York. She will present what will be the most talked-of feature of the bill. In full view of the audience, with a huge tank (glass) filed with water, she evolves a beautiful girl. The illusion is said to be one of the most startling the country has ever seen.

Twenty Japanese soldiers—the men who helped to capture Port Arthur—are also numbered among the features of the bill. They do a number of stunts in the way of drills, manual of grass, acrostate water for the high in rear of the stage. They feet high in rear of the stage.

way of drills, manual to be a stage. They hatle work and finally scale a wall forty feet high in rear of the stage. They are as nimble as kittens, quick, and execute their movements with a sort of fluitists snap.

Steel, Doty and Coe, the men who make muste out of almost any old thing that happens to fall into their hands, are to be seen. They have been here before, but they have never falled to get storms of applause by the good work they do.

Nat Clifford is a new one. He is a singer and dancer, a man who has featured in London music halls, having achieved success at the Empire, London, LeRoy and Woodford are said to be good for twenty minutes of fun and ffolic, with musical interruptions. Injecting bits of comedy at intervals to keep the audience on the alert. They have been before the public for some time, but they have never been seen here. Cartinell and Harris, ranking well up with the top-notchers and head-liners, are put down for a stunt that is said to be as good as any of the stars doing a be as good as any of the stars doing a singing and dancing turn that adds interest to the performance.
